HCL Workload Automation
September Edition

LATEST NEWS

HCL Software listed as Representative Vendor for 2ⁿᵈ Year In a Row in 2021 Gartner Market Guide for Service Orchestration and Automation Platforms report.

HCL Workload Automation provides a single point of access and control to customers, allowing them to easily model their workflow, improve service level agreements and build end-to-end processes, while interconnecting heterogeneous flows and avoiding islands of automation.

READ LATEST BLOG

Build Robust Enterprise Automation Platform in Public or Hybrid Cloud

Discover how HCL Workload Automation can orchestrate the digital transformation from a centralized point of control to ensure business availability and resilience. With experts on demand and Kubernetes, reduce your risk and cost as you move to any cloud without vendor lock-in. Watch our latest video today!

STREAM NOW

Implement a Multi-Cloud Strategy and Get Cloud Native as-a-service

Move to a cloud native architecture now and manage HCL Workload Automation delivered as containers supporting Kubernetes with one-line, one-click deployment. Implement a multi-cloud strategy and run task scheduling on any cloud, on premise, private or public..
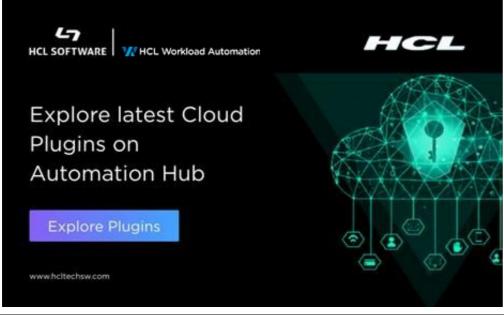

DEMO ON DEMAND

Automate Anything, Run Anywhere with HCL Workload Automation

Boost your business with the most advanced workload scheduling, managed file transfer, and realtime monitoring capabilities for continuous automation. Keep control on your automation processes from a single point of access and monitoring!

DOWNLOAD E-BOOK

Explore latest Cloud Plugins on Automation Hub

Discover Automation Hub, a market place for latest plugins and integrations. With our continuous deliveries activities, explore out-of-the-box integrations and plugins from our extensive collection. Manage cloud native applications locally or remotely with our integrations.

EXPLORE PLUGINS

Follow us for latest updates on HCL Workload Automation