HCL Mosaic

Costs often deter organizations from modernizing their legacy systems. Fragmented platforms and aging deployments can consume up to 80% of IT budgets, leaving little room for innovation.

HCL Mosaic offers a cost-efficient, modular cloud service designed to accelerate transformation, connect experiences across systems, and simplify operations.

Common Challenges

Limited Business Innovation and Adoption

Legacy approaches to digital innovation slow down experimentation and limit the ability to deliver new experiences quickly.

Legacy Deployment Models

Older deployment models limit agility and make it difficult to scale digital initiatives across the enterprise.

Older Versions with Limited Capabilities

Older platforms lack modern capabilities needed to support evolving digital expectations.

Difficult and Fragmented User Experiences

Customers, partners, and employees often face inconsistent or disconnected digital experiences across channels and systems.

Lack of Experience Skills

Lack of internal expertise required to design, build, and manage complex digital experiences.

IT Resources Spread Thin

IT teams are often overextended managing multiple systems, upgrades, and integrations.

HCL Mosaic solution

From design to deployment, Mosaic offers an accelerated development cycle to move faster from idea to execution and deliver modern experiences at scale.

A modular cloud service modernizes your experience strategy while maintaining flexibility and control.

Built for innovation, Mosaic's modern experience platform unlocks new capabilities without complex migrations.

A unified experience seamlessly connects systems, applications, and users, ensuring consistent engagement across every touchpoint.

With integrated experience tools and services, Mosaic simplifies the creation and management of modern digital experiences, reducing reliance on external agencies.

Mosaic consolidates capabilities into a single platform, so you can operate more efficiently and reduce operational complexity.
